PREFACE.

THE Compiler having received considerable encouragement on the first issue of this Handbook, Directory and Almanac, now lays before the public of St. Lucia the number for 1901, which, through the generous assistance of a number of people, he has been able to considerably enlarge and make more correct. He trusts that the kindly spirit with which the first issue was received will be extended to this one as well. He also begs to thank those who have given, in many instances voluntarily, their help in those matters with which they were more conversant than himself. Especially does he wish to thank Mr. F. E. Bundy, Inspector of Schools, through whose assistance he has been able, among other things, to thoroughly revise the History of the Island, and also Mr. T. T. Dyer, of the Government Office, who has again materially lightened the Compiler's labours by his generous assistance.

Although the Compiler spared no pains in trying to render the first issue reliable, yet many inaccuracies and omissions have been brought to his notice ; many more will, no doubt, according to the nature of things, be found in this one. Any such he will be only too glad to have pointed out to him, as he desires to attain absolute correctness.

The Handbook for 1900 was not a financial success; but as the Compiler's chief object was to be useful in his generation, he has been buoyed up while preparing this issue by the thought that, judging by the many and flattering encomiums passed on his work, his aim has been in some measure realised, and he can therefore launch this edition with a degree of confidence.

CHRONOLOGICAL VIEW OF THE PRINCIPAL EVENTS IN THE HISTORY OF ST. LUCIA.

1502. June 15.—St. Lucia (formerly St. Alousie or St. Alouziel) discovered by Columbus during his fourth voyage.
1605. Sixty-seven passengers of the English ship “Olive Blossom” landed “to take their fortune in the fruitful isle.” They stayed a little over a month, when, reduced to nineteen by wars with Indians, they set sail in open boat and reached the mainland of South America in sore distress. This is the first recorded instance of the landing of Englishmen in this Island. About this same period, the date however being unfixed, the Dutch are said to have visited the Island and built a fort at the south-eastern end.
1635. Grant of the Island by the King of France to Messrs. De l’Olive and Duplessis, who, however, resided in Martinique and left Caribs in possession.
1638. St. Lucia surrendered to Lord Willoughby. Captain Judlee, of St. Kitts, having obtained commission from Sir T. Warner to settle St. Lucia, came with 300 or 400 men, 120 of whom were from Somers Island, Bermuda Islands.
1640. August.—Massacre and expulsion of English by the Caribs, in revenge for the attempt of an English ship at Dominica to carry off some Caribs who visited her.
1641. Governor killed and others driven out (smoked out by Caribs by burning dried red pepper). French believed to have instigated the natives.
1642. March.—King of France ceded St. Lucia (besides all his other possessions in America) by edict to the French West India Company, which, however, was composed of needy adventurers who were unable to profitably cultivate it.
1650. Dissension having arisen among the shareholders of the French West India Company, it was resolved to sell some of these islands to the most troublesome shareholders. September 22.—St. Lucia, Grenada and Martinique sold to Messrs. Houel and Duparquet for 41,500 livres (£1,660 sterling).

1651. August.—Sale confirmed by Letters Patent.
October.—Duparquet invested with the Administration of the Government of the three Islands. Administration of St. Lucia confided by Duparquet to Rousselan, who, marrying a Carib, was venerated by the natives of St. Lucia and greatly feared by the Caribs of the other isles. Under his administration forty colonists arrived and introduced the cultivation of tobacco, ginger and cotton.
1652. Treaty said to have been made between Indians and English with a view to making St. Lucia the outlet for surplus population of Barbados. Island accordingly granted to the Earl of Carlisle.
1655. Death of Rousselan.
1657. January 3.—Death of Duparquet.
- 1657 } The colonists greatly alarmed by frequent incursions of to } the Caribs, during whose visits Governors La Rivière 1660. } (1657), Haquet (1657), and D'Aigremont (1658) were murdered, and Governor Le Breton (1657) was forced to flee.
1658. Governor de Coutis recalled.
1659. Governor Lalande died from effects of the climate.
1660. March 31.—Treaty of peace (called the Treaty of St. Christopher's) made with the Caribs, by which the latter abandoned all claim to the Lesser Antilles on condition of being left in peaceable possession of St. Vincent and Dominica.
1663. St. Lucia claimed by both French and English, the former laying claim in virtue of length of occupation and the latter in right of priority of settlement. The inhabitants of Barbados (Francis, Lord Willoughby, Governor) formed the design of taking possession on behalf of the English Crown, but knowledge of their project having got to the French authorities at Martinique, a line of fortifications was erected along Choc Bay, and they were defeated in their attempt.
1664. The Barbadians, under Thomas Warner (a half-bred Carib, afterwards Governor of Dominica, and the natural son of the Governor of St. Christopher), again attacked the French under Bonnard, defeated them, and took possession of the fort. Mr. Cook appointed Governor. April 17.—King of France, by arrêt of Council of State, revoked and cancelled all grants to French West India Company, and all sales and transfers made by it to private parties. May 28.—Institution by edict of a new company, with similar powers, but upon a footing of greater respectability and independence, and invested with the direction of all West India affairs. St. Lucia, however, continued under British rule until 1667.

1667. July 31.—Peace of Breda, under which St. Lucia was restored to France. October.—Deed of settlement drawn up at Martinique between an English representative sent over by the Governor of St. Lucia and the French West India Company's agent there, handing over the Island to the above Company.
1674. December.—The West India Company dissolved by edict of the King, and St. Lucia re-annexed to the domain of the Crown of France and made a dependency of Martinique under Count de Blénac.
1675. August 31.—First recorded instance of a hurricane visiting the Island.
1686. Unsuccessful attempt of an English man-of-war, 50 guns, to recapture the Island.
1700. Claim to the Island set up by the Governor of Barbados, Ralph Grey, by orders of the King of England; but he having been informed by the Governor of St. Lucia, Marquis d'Amblimont, that force would be repelled by force, he abandoned the invasion.
1713. April 11.—Peace of Utrecht. Arrival of a number of French deserters, both soldiers and sailors.
1718. August.—Grant of St. Lucia by Letters Patent by the Regent d'Orleans to Marshal Count d'Estrées. Administration placed in the hands of a commission composed of Messrs. Thibault, Tauzay, Duchenetateau, Petit and d'Hauterive.
1722. December.—King of England retaliated to the above grant by granting St. Lucia and St. Vincent (by Letters Patent dated June 22) to John, Duke of Montague, who immediately despatched Captain Nathaniel Wring to take possession.
1723. January 15.—Arrival of the Marquis de Champigny with a party of Martiniquians and Guadaloupians. Wring surrendered. The Island evacuated by the English, and, together with St. Vincent and Dominica, declared neutral by both English and French until the decision of the two Crowns on their respective pretensions.
1725. First signs of prosperity. Arrival of colonists from Martinique, and attempt at cultivation of coffee and cocoa.
1744. Marquis de Caylus, Governor of Martinique, takes advantage of the declaration of war to send a body

- of troops to St. Lucia. Death of their commander, M. Martin.
1745. M. de Longueville appointed Military Commandant by the French. First grant of land made.
1748. October 7.—Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, whereby the neutrality of St. Lucia was recognised by the contending parties. De Longueville retained the authority of Civil Commandant.
1756. Renewal of hostilities. De Longueville reinstated in his military functions by M. de Bompard, Governor-General of Martinique. Island put in a state of defence.
1759. Death of De Longueville. Succeeded by his nephew the Chevalier de Longueville.
1762. February 26.—Arrival of British Squadron under the command of Captain Harvey to demand the surrender of the Island. De Longueville having failed to rouse the inhabitants to take up arms, was compelled to surrender at discretion.
1763. February 10.—Treaty of Paris. Division of the neutral islands. St. Lucia assigned to France.
1764. St. Lucia made the seat of a general Government on "a scale of imposing grandeur," and the Chevalier de Jumillac appointed first Governor-General. Josephine Tascher de la Pagerie (the future Empress of France), born at Morne Paix-Bouche, St. Lucia.
1765. April 15.—First sugar estate established at Vieux-Fort under the auspices of Messrs. Levacher and Le Blond.
- 1766.) The principal fort removed from the Vigie to Morne 1768.) Fortuné, and the town which had been commenced at Little Carénage Bay, on the right of the harbour, transferred to its present locality.
1768. The Court of Versailles, finding that the resources of the Island could not allow of the General Government established in 1764, re-annexed it to Martinique. M. de Micoud appointed Lieut.-Governor.
1771. Departure of M. de Micoud. Is succeeded by his nephew, the Chevalier de Micoud.
1772. Population: 2,018 whites; 633 coloured; 12,795 blacks. Total, 15,446.
1773. Chevalier de Micoud superseded. M. de Karny appointed Governor.
1775. Death of Governor de Karny. Chevalier de Micoud resumed the provisional administration until the arrival of M. de Courcy.
1776. M. de Courcy having been promoted, the office was conferred on M. de Joubert. The latter resided at Martinique, and named Chevalier de Micoud to act as his Deputy.

1778. May.—Admiral Rodney wrote impressing on the Earl of Sandwich the necessity of securing possession of St. Lucia. War between England and France. Conquest of St. Lucia undertaken by the British. Arrival of naval forces under Admiral Barrington. December 13.—Landing of 5,000 British at Grand Cul-de-Sac, under Major-General Grant and Brigadier-Generals Meadows and Prescott. Chevalier de Micoud driven from the Vigie and Morne Fortuné. December 30.—Arrival of French Fleet under Admiral Count d'Estaing and of land forces under the Marquis de Bouillé. Naval engagement in which d'Estaing was defeated. The French land forces repulsed with great slaughter from an attack on the Vigie. French evacuation of the Island.
1780. October 11.—Severe hurricane.
1781. May 12.—St. Lucia invested by Count de Grasse with a fleet of 25 sail of the line. Capture of Gros-Islet by the Marquis de Bouillé. Arrival of a portion of Rodney's Squadron and sudden retreat of the French.
1782. February 19.—Arrival at Gros-Islet Bay of Sir G. Rodney with a fleet of 36 sail of the line. April 12.—Admiral Rodney totally defeated the French fleet of 35 sail of the line under Count de Grasse off Dominica.
1783. January 20.—Peace of Versailles. St. Lucia restored to France and taken possession of by Viscount de Damas, the French Governor-General.
1784. January 15.—Baron de Laborie appointed Governor. Under this Governor the administration was greatly improved, commercial confidence restored, and former privileges of free trade re-established. He encouraged agriculture, and especially spice cultivation, importing plants from Cayenne, paved the streets of the town of Castries, made good roads throughout the island, and built baths near the Soufrière for the use of invalids. He also first gave the name of "Castries" to the principal town in honour of Marshal de Castries, the French Colonial Minister of the day.
1786. September 2.—Hurricane.
1788. September 13.—Hurricane.
1789. Death of Governor de Laborie. Population : 2,198 whites; 1,588 coloured ; 17,992 blacks.
1791. Tricolor flag hoisted by Messrs. Montdenoix and Linger, two Republican agents. St. Lucia receives from the National Convention the appellation of "The Faithful."

1792. December.—Arrival of Captain La Crosse, entrusted with the circulating of revolutionary pamphlets. Received with open arms, and consequently trade was once more paralysed, work on estates discontinued and plantations deserted.
1793. February 3.—General Ricard appointed Governor by the National Convention. August 12.—Frightful hurricane.
1794. February 4.—Abolition of slavery in the French Antilles. March 31.—British Squadron under Sir J. Jervis arrived and immediately attacked St. Lucia. April 4.—The garrison surrendered, and His Royal Highness Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, planted the British colours on Morne Fortuné. Sir Charles Gordon appointed Governor. Castries named "Félicité" by the revolutionary party.
1795. Harassing war carried on by insurgent slaves and escaped French convicts, who had retired into the woods. To add to which "Citoyen" Victor Hughes, who had been appointed Civil Commissary of Guadeloupe, commenced operations against St. Lucia. At first defeated and forced to retire to Soufrière, he there made a stand, defeating the British forces at the Battle of Rabot on April 22. Pigeon Island and Vigie being soon reduced, leaving only Morne Fortuné untaken, the British were forced to evacuate the Island.
1796. April 26.—Arrival of Squadron and troops under Rear-Admiral Sir Hugh Christian and Lieut.-General Sir Ralph Abercrombie. Morne Fortuné invested by Brigadier-Generals Moore and Hope. May 26.—The Republicans defeated and Morne Fortuné captured. General Moore appointed Governor. The town of Castries destroyed by fire. General Moore commenced operations against the "Brigands" or "Armée française dans les bois."
1797. January.—Negotiations with Marin Pedre and Lacroix, the Chiefs of the "Brigands." Illness and departure of Governor Moore. Colonel Drummond appointed Governor. The "Brigands" finally reduced.
1798. May.—General Prevost appointed Governor.
1800. Reorganisation of the Courts of Law.
1801. April 29.—General Prevost appointed first Civil Governor, through a memorial addressed to the King by the Court of Appeal.

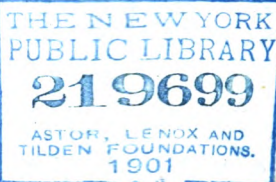

1802. General Prevost compelled to retire through failing health. The members of the Court of Appeal presented him with a sword. Brigadier-General Vansittart appointed Governor. March 25.—Peace of Amiens; St. Lucia restored to France. September 29.—Brigadier-General Noguès appointed Governor.
1803. Custody of the parish registers entrusted to the clergy. June 19.—Renewal of hostilities; arrival of squadron and forces under Commodore Hood and Lieut.-General Grinfield. June 21.—Squadron anchored in Choc Bay. The Vigie and Morne Fortuné stormed, and General Noguès surrendered on capitulation. Brigadier-General Brereton appointed Governor. October.— $4\frac{1}{2}$ per centum duties extended to St. Lucia.
1805. March.—Appearance of Admiral Missiessy's marauding squadron off the Island.

GEOGRAPHY AND TOPOGRAPHY.

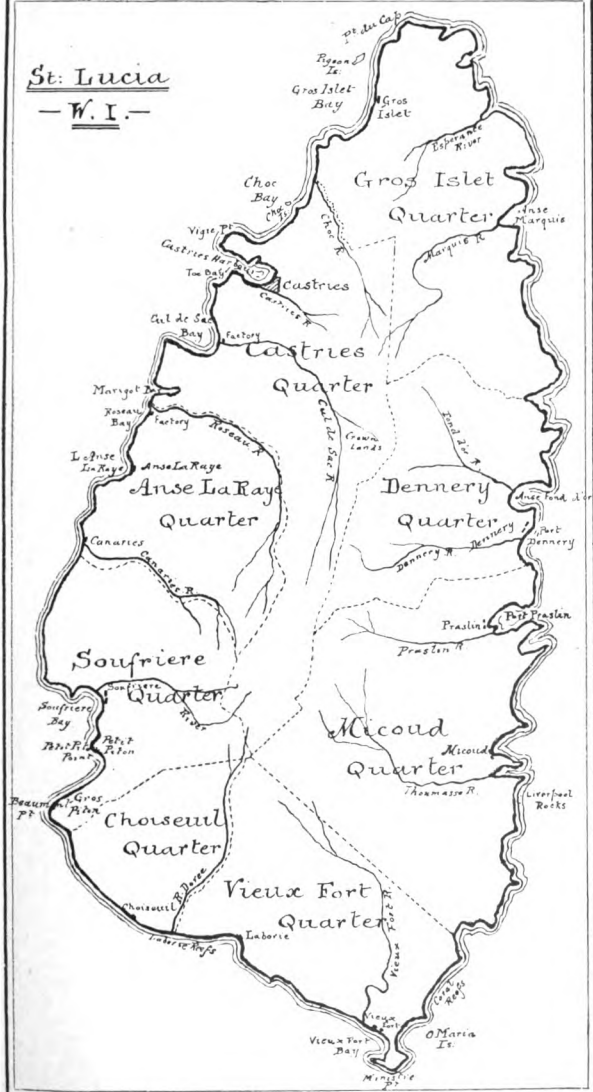

ST. LUCIA is the most northerly and also the largest of the group of Islands in the West Indies called the Windward Islands, and is situated in $13^{\circ} 50'$ N. Lat. and $60^{\circ} 58'$ W. Long. at a distance of 24 miles to the S.E. of Martinique, 21 N.E. of St. Vincent and about 90 W.N.W. of Barbados. Its greatest length is 27 miles, its greatest breadth 14 miles, and its superficial area is estimated at about 238 square miles.

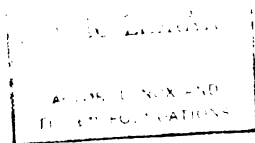

The island is of purely volcanic origin and is very mountainous, being divided longitudinally by a chain of hills, from which branch off innumerable smaller ones, which form a large number of most fertile and picturesque valleys, situated transversely on either side of the central chain of hills. The hills presenting themselves in most fantastic shapes give the island a wild appearance, and being for the most part uncultivated and covered with virgin forests of large timber, truly justify Montgomery Martin's description of it as "the wildly beautiful island." "Sombre forests and fertile valleys, smiling plains and lowering precipices, lively rivers and deep ravines" make up a wonderfully attractive picture—a vast panorama where Nature alternately assumes her wildest attitude and most enchanting forms. Along the coast line the island presents an equally wild appearance; cove after cove follow one another in quick succession, each surrounded by steep cliffs and white beach, with here and there on their surface the white foam formed by breakers curling over their many coral reefs. Towards the south are the Pitons, two rocks which rise apparently sheer out of the sea in parallel cones to a height of 2,461 and 2,619 feet. Standing barely a quarter of a mile apart at their base, they look like sentinels guarding the island, and have been compared to the Pillars of Hercules. The smaller one, the Petit Piton, despite the many legends attached to it of successful and other attempts to ascend, seems to have defied man until the year 1878, when Mr. Deligny succeeded in gaining its summit. Not long after a party headed by Chief Justice Carrington also successfully overcame all obstacles and reached the top. Not far from these Pitons, but occupying a more inland position, is the Piton des Canaries, 3,012 feet high, surrounded by dense forests and deep ravines.

The natural curiosity of St. Lucia is the Soufrière or sulphurous mountain. It is about two miles from the town of Soufrière. The crater is about 1,000 feet above the sea level, and is encrusted over with a thin layer of sulphur, alum, cinders, and other volcanic matter; in its midst are to be seen several cauldrons in a perpetual state of ebullition. "There is a peculiar feature about the Soufrière which does not belong to any other volcano. Of course it can bear no comparison with Etna, Vesuvius, and other celebrated volcanoes, for the intensity and violence of their eruptions, or their terrific grandeur even in a state of quiescence; but it surpasses all others by its uninterrupted manifestation of the volcanic process. Even the Geysers in Iceland, to which it would seem to bear a striking resemblance, only play at intervals, whilst the Soufrière is in a continuous though less violent state of eruption. What it was three hundred years ago it is at this moment, and will probably be three hundred years hence. From the chaotic appearance of the surrounding objects, and particularly of the Pitons, there is no doubt that this spot was once the centre of some awful convulsion of nature, but at what period there is now no means of ascertaining. It must have occurred long before the discovery of the island, as no chronicle of any such event has been handed down to us by the Caribs. Another peculiarity of this volcano is the perennial supply of water which it commands. It is supposed that this water is received through some subterraneous passage from the Etangs, or Mountain Lakes, situated at a distance of half a mile to the south-east of the volcano; nor does this supposition appear wholly unwarranted, when it is considered that the water in the Etangs is visibly decreasing year after year. Surely, neither the rivulet at the foot of the crater nor any springs in its immediate vicinity could have supplied for ages the quantity of water which is daily absorbed by the unremitting action of this extraordinary work of nature."

St. Lucia

The island is watered by innumerable small rivers. They take their origin in the mountains, and during the rainy season many of these, swelling into tremendous torrents, do great damage to roads and plantations. The principal rivers are those of Castries, Grand Cul-de-Sac, Roseau, Anse-la-Raye, Canaries, Soufrière, Dorée, Vieux-Fort, Canelles, Fond, Dennery and Marquis.

There are several excellent bays around the island which afford splendid anchorage. The most important are those of Castries, Gros-Islet, Grand Cul-de-Sac, Marigot, Soufrière, Vieux-Fort, Canelles, Micoud, Praslin and Dennery. The most singular of all is the Bay of Marigot, with its double basin formed like two rings of a chain, the inner of which is entirely concealed from view along the coast.

To the north-west of the island and about seven miles from Castries, lies Pigeon Island. It is $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles in length and about half that extent at its greatest breadth. It consists of two hills, on the smaller of which is situated Fort Rodney, so named after the famed Admiral, who, from its parapets, watched the French fleet under De Grasse in Martinique, until it set sail in April, 1782, soon after to suffer defeat at his hands, a result which not only decided Britain's naval pre-eminence but Britain's existence as an independent nation. "It is therefore no insignificant honour to St. Lucia, "that by the position which Admiral Rodney occupied in one of "its harbours, he was enabled to watch the motions of the enemy's "fleet, to pursue them at an hour's notice, and finally on the 12th "April, 1782, to achieve that glorious and decisive victory over "Count de Grasse, whereby the mighty projects of the coalesced "powers were annihilated and Britain's dominion on the ocean "secured."

GEOLOGY.

"The island may be considered as a confused, amorphous "mass of igneous matter, without any definite structural arrange- "ment, and its rocks, with the exception of a coralline limestone "found in the neighbourhood of the town of Soufrière, are all of "igneous or volcanic origin. These rocks are either crystalline, of "the nature of traps, exhibiting much variety of structure, or "uncrystalline, composed of volcanic ashes, constituting tufas. "Of the former many resemble basalt and greenstone, whilst some "are an approach to granite or syenite. The mountains are made "up of a volcanic conglomerate, and basalt rocks of all sorts "(porphyrites, andesites, pumiceous and bedded tuffs), phonolitic "and schistose masses, felstones, lavas, and such like, are found. "These rocks are Tertiary or Post-Tertiary."

"In the valleys and alluvial plains the soil consists of a deep "vegetable mould mixed with clay, and in the more elevated "positions, of red earth; the substratum is a mixture of sand and "gravel. Rough jasper is found at Vieux-Fort to the extreme "south, various commercial clays in the south-western parts, and "very small quantities of iron and copper ores exist in some "localities. Sulphur was formerly obtained in large quantities "from the sulphur springs of Soufrière in the west of the island, "but a tax of 16s. per ton having been imposed on it in 1840, the "industry collapsed. As this deposit is always in a state of "natural accumulation, the crusts were again stripped in 1892 by "Mr. Cousins, an English Engineer, and transported home as a "marketable commodity."

POLITICAL CONSTITUTION.

The constitution is that of a Crown Colony, the Crown having the entire control of legislation, and the administration being carried on by officers under the control of the Imperial Government. St. Lucia is included, with St. Vincent and Grenada, in a Windward Islands Government, with a Governor-in-Chief resident at Grenada. An Administrator is at the head of affairs in the Island, and is assisted in the administration by the advice of two Councils—the Executive and the Legislative. The former is composed of the Governor (when in the Island), the Administrator and Colonial Secretary, the Officer Commanding Troops, the Attorney-General, and the Treasurer. The Legislative Council is composed of the Administrator and Colonial Secretary, who presides, and has an original vote as a member, as well as a casting vote as President, and of equal numbers of official and unofficial members appointed by the Sovereign, the Attorney-General, the Treasurer, the Registrar and Sheriff, the Magistrate I. District and the Colonial Surgeon having seats on the official side ex officio. When the Governor is in the island he presides over the Council. There are at present twelve members of Legislative Council. The unofficial members hold their seats for six years, but are eligible for re-appointment.

The Government is assisted in the internal administration by a Town Board in Castries, an Improvement Committee in Soufrière, and a Warden, under the control of the Governor-in-Executive Council in the other eight towns and villages. There are also three Boards—one for each parish—with a Road Administration, a Board of Health, and a Quarantine Authority.

EDUCATION.

Steady progress has been made in elementary education in St. Lucia during the last few years, as may be seen from the following table :—

	1890	1895	1898	1899
Number of Schools	28	37	39	42
Number of children on Rolls	3,669	3,977	5,280	5,735
Number of children in average attendance	1,865	2,212	2,787	3,188

The number of schools now in operation (October, 1900), and which receive aid from public funds, is 42. There are no Government schools, all the schools being denominational and assisted. They may be classed as follows : —

Schools.	No. of Schools.	Types of Schools.
Anglican . .	3	1 Combined Mixed, 1 Juvenile Mixed, 1 Infant Mixed
Wesleyan . .	2	1 Juvenile Mixed, 1 Infant Mixed
Indian Mission	2	Combined Mixed
		(13 Combined Mixed
		6 „ Boys
		4 „ Girls
Roman Catholic	35	2 Juvenile Boys
		4 „ Girls
		(2 Infant Boys
		4 „ Girls

“Combined” schools are schools attended by both juveniles and infants. “Mixed” schools are those attended by both boys and girls.

The amount received by the Primary schools from the public funds during 1899 was £3,079.

The system now in force is one, partly of payments (ranging from £30 to £50) to head teachers on account of the certificates of competency they hold, partly of grants to pupil teachers and assistants, and partly of payments as capitation and result grants. This system was established by the Education Ordinance in 1899, but during 1900 a committee, composed of three managers of schools and three officials, was appointed to consider a new code. The report of the committee has been submitted to the Government, and it is probable will result in a material alteration of the present system.

The almost universal prevalence of the French patois, known as Creole, has been a great bar to the progress of education, for though it is forbidden to be used in school it has been found almost impossible to strictly enforce the rule. For the last two years the Administrator (Sir C. A. King-Harman, K.C.M.G.) has generously given prizes, amounting to £20 a year, as rewards to the Creole-speaking children attending the primary schools in St. Lucia who have made the most progress in the speaking of English. It is expected, also, that the new code will provide for the more systematic teaching of English as a spoken tongue among the children. This is very necessary, especially as according to the Inspector of Schools report for 1898—"the passing of children in "the three 'R.'s' according to a fixed syllabus is not necessarily "giving a child a 'good education.' It is possible for a child "to learn to write fairly, and, by an effort of memory, to read "mechanically, to spell correctly, and to work rule-of-thumb "examples in arithmetic, in a language of which he has very little "real knowledge."

It is also expected that provision will be made for the teaching of agriculture in the schools. The Imperial Department of Agriculture has provided several courses of lectures to teachers in theoretical and practical agriculture, in order to fit them for the new work which it will be compulsory sooner or later to take up in all the primary schools. The results of the lectures given in April, 1900, were very satisfactory, all the teachers obtaining a class in the examination held immediately after the course—15 of them first class and 9 second class.

Though there is an ordinance making it compulsory for parents to send their children to school, it has not been found practicable to put it in force. Nevertheless, the percentage of children attending school has risen 11·7 per cent. of the population in 1899, as compared with 7·9 per cent. in 1889 and 8·7 per cent. in 1895.

Secondary education is provided for boys at St. Mary's College, Castries, which receives a grant in aid of £200; and for girls at the Convent, Castries, which receives £50 a year. The boys are prepared for the Cambridge Local, and the girls for the College of Preceptors' Examinations.

AGRICULTURE.

St. Lucia appears to have remained wholly uncultivated until about the middle of the seventeenth century. About 1651 the cultivation of tobacco, ginger and cotton was introduced, and these continued to be the chief resources of the colonist until the early part of the eighteenth century, when they were almost entirely displaced by the more lucrative commodities of coffee and cocoa.

The first grant of land was made by Governor de Longueville in 1745—a measure which was soon followed by the apportionment of large tracts amongst the more influential settlers. About twenty years after several respectable French planters emigrated with their families to St. Lucia, thus introducing a considerable amount of capital, and giving an impulse to trade and agriculture. Soon in every part of the island plantations were extended, large uncultivated tracts reclaimed, establishments formed, and the cultivation of cotton, until then of little importance, soon spread all over the island.

The first sugar establishment was commenced in Vieux-Fort in April, 1765, and another a year or two after in the quarter of Praslin. In fact, such was the rapid progress made at this period in the formation and extension of sugar plantations, that no less than thirty had been actually established when, in 1780, a tremendous hurricane destroyed most of the works, and threw a damp on industry and enterprise, from which, followed as it was soon after by the still more discouraging effects of the Revolution, the inhabitants were unable to recover for many years. Not till the early part of the nineteenth century did the inhabitants return to their former occupations, but, for the want of capital and proper legislation with regard to land, agriculture was for many more years retarded. In 1833, when a large amount of money was put into circulation through the establishment of a mortgage registry, the island again showed signs of agricultural prosperity. Yet still although in 1843 there were eighty-one sugar estates and twenty planted in coffee, the historian of the island, Henry H. Breen, Esq., recorded "that not more than one-sixteenth part of the island is under cultivation, although it is susceptible of being so to the summits of the highest mountains. Little improvement has been effected in the old system of agriculture; few, if any, attempts have been made to substitute mechanical for manual labour; and even the plough and other implements of agriculture, which might be employed with so much advantage, are as yet scarcely known." The same may be said of the island to-day. For although attention is being drawn more and more to the agricultural possibilities of the island, principally through the throwing open of large tracts of Crown lands (dealt with in an article appended), yet still the same old system remains. This, no doubt, with the now expected influx of planters and capitalists, will shortly improve.

The chief products of the island at the present day are sugar, molasses, rum, cocoa, fruits, vegetables and fuel wood.

In the valleys of Grand Cul-de-Sac, Mabouya, Roseau and Vieux-Fort, four large central sugar factories, fitted with every newest appliance for the manufacture of "crystals," is established. Their exports of sugar in 1899 amounted to the value of about £58,000.

Cocoa is now being taken up again, principally by the purchasers of the newly opened up Crown lands, but more attention will have to be paid to the preparation of this commodity for the European market before good prices are obtained. Up to the present day not a single planter has tried the process of drying their beans by hot air, but depend entirely on the sun, a system which is obviously attended by an element of uncertainty, and frequently causes deterioration in the value of the bean. In 1899 cocoa to the value of £23,870 was exported.

A small trade is carried on between this island and Barbados by the export of fresh fruit and vegetables, of which St. Lucia produces large quantities of almost all known tropical species, and also fuel wood.

Coffee and spices, for many years neglected, are now being paid more attention.

In 1886 a Botanic Station was established in the neighbourhood of Castries, with the object of introducing and teaching the best methods of cultivation and preparation, and distributing among planters new economic plants. Some good work has been done in both directions, and the garden itself presents a very creditable appearance. This garden has lately been taken over by the Imperial Department of Agriculture for the West Indies, which was started in 1898 on the recommendation of the Royal Commissioners sent out in 1896 to inquire into the condition of the West Indies. This department has as its duties (1) to supervise and extend the work of the present botanic stations; (2) to start industrial schools for training boys in agricultural pursuits; (3) to encourage the theoretical (and to some extent the practical) teaching of agriculture in elementary schools; (4) to promote the teaching of scientific agriculture in colleges and schools; (5) to organise horticultural shows and exhibitions of implements and machinery suitable for cultivating and curing tropical products; and (6) to prepare bulletins, leaflets and other literature on subjects suitable for cultivation in the West Indies. The department has purchased a large estate in this island for the starting of an industrial school, and has already held three very successful horticultural shows. Dr. Morris, C.M.G., is President, and J. Chisnall Moore, Esq., Curator of the Botanic Gardens.

There is an Agricultural Society in the island, which has done good work in the past, and is dealt with fully in another part of this book.

In connection with agriculture must be mentioned the West India Committee, in London, an association of planters, merchants and other gentlemen interested in the British West Indies and British Guiana, and whose objects are to promote the welfare of the British West Indies and British Guiana, and by united action to further the interests of these colonies generally. Sir Nevile Lubbock, K.C.M.G., is president of the committee, and the Hon. E. Du Boulay, corresponding secretary for St. Lucia.

CROWN LANDS.

The Crown Lands of this Colony, which consist of about a quarter of the total area of the Island, or about 38,000 acres, lie within an irregular ellipse, at an average distance of three miles from the coast. These lands consist of portions which have never been granted, or have from time to time been re-united to the Royal Domain. Large portions were re-united under the Government of the last French occupation of the island, as mentioned in M. Lefort de la Tour's Index to the Map of the Colony (prepared in 1887) as the result of the abandonment of numerous properties after the Great Storm of 1780; the damage done by that storm being so great that many persons forsook their estates and sought a livelihood elsewhere, and the Government re-annexed many vacant estates and fixed periods for the others to be put under cultivation, failing which the grants would lapse.

Since the English occupation many properties which had become abandoned or vacant have been escheated to the Crown, and that process is still in progress with regard to those estates for which there are no apparent owners,

These lands, as stated above, lie within an area situated towards the centre of the island, and although in consequence thereof much of that area is occupied by precipitous and uncultivable hills, yet there are sheltered and watered valleys nestling among these hills which contain some of the finest lands of the Colony, well suited for the growth of cacao, cotton, spices, &c.

These lands are continually being sold out by the Government, which has established and maintained for ten years a Land Department, which is doing good work in establishing and fostering an independent system of peasant proprietors, owning lots ranging in area from 5 acres to 100 acres in extent. And as the price charged for this land has been fixed at 20s. per acre, payable in five yearly instalments, plus the cost of surveying, it falls within the reach of every one to purchase. To further assist cultivators the Government grants to each a certain number of plants free of cost from the Botanic Gardens with which to start his cultivation.

A system of bye-ways is being laid which will give ready access to the back lands, which, aided by the water transport along the coast, will bring the products of these properties within easy reach of the shipping port of Castries.

THE CLIMATE.

The climate of St. Lucia has always been sadly maligned. But, although it is undoubtedly true that in years gone by some districts of the island were at certain seasons more or less unhealthy, especially for natives of southern climates, yet this was chiefly due to a total want of sanitary precautions, to an imperfect knowledge of the causes of disease and of the proper modes of treatment, and to a still more imperfect acquaintance with the natural causes which render certain localities less healthy than others. Of late all this has, however, changed; the advent of improved sanitary arrangements and a better knowledge of the nature and causes of disease have resulted in a more general healthfulness. The death-rate of the Colony in 1899 was only 24 per 1,000.

The climate is singularly mild. The mean temperature varies from 70° to 72° during the cool season, even falling as low as 65° in the nights, and during the hot season, when, as in all tropical countries it is most oppressive, as high as 90° has been recorded. The mean temperature for 1899, from observations taken at the Botanic Gardens, on a level with the town of Castries, was 80° . With the close of day there is a marked change in the temperature; the heat and glare give place to a delicious coolness, often made more refreshing by a soft evening breeze.

Storms and hurricanes are of rare occurrence. Although the Northern Islands have in late years suffered considerably from hurricanes, St. Lucia has escaped with merely some slight atmospheric disturbance. The mercurial mean pressure at the Botanical Station gives an average for 1899 of 29.998. The total rainfall of the same place was 84.64 inches.

FAUNA AND FLORA.

“The fauna of St. Lucia is insignificant, being confined to the Agouti and the Iguana, the former a sharp little rodent, not unlike a hedgehog in appearance, and the latter a large variety of green lizard. Both are vegetarians and both are excellent eating, the Agouti tasting something like hare, while the flesh of the Iguana is suggestive of both turtle and chicken.”

There are several species of snakes, the most dangerous of which is the Fer-de-Lance (Craspedocephalus lanceolatus), a genus peculiar to this island and Martinique. It attains the length of 8 to 9 feet, and its bite will cause death in a few hours unless attended to immediately. In past years many deaths were recorded annually from this cause, but latterly, through the introduction of the Mongoose (Herpestes griseus) this species is being gradually exterminated, and in 1899 only one death was attributed to this cause. It should be understood that these snakes are never by any chance met with near to or in the towns, and that it is only in the interior that they are now found.

Other snakes are the Tête-chien, a boa constrictor about 10 feet long, black, with yellow markings; the Couresse, a small harmless black and white snake; and the Cribo, a steel-blue snake with white belly, the enemy of the Fer-de-Lance.

No complete list has ever been made of the birds of the island, but as far as is known all those found in the neighbouring islands are to be had here. A list of those found in the Island of Grenada is therefore included as a guide to ornithologists. At a certain period of the year good shooting can be obtained, there being a Wild Birds' Protection Act preventing the killing of the larger birds for a part of the year.

In the many streams which interlace the island good fishing is to be obtained; in certain localities the mullet, mudfish, and tarpon being found in large quantities. The crayfish is also plentiful.

A large part of the island is still uncultivated, and covered with forests. Here are to be found large tracts of all the marketable timbers peculiar to these parts, a list of the principal of which will be found in another part of this volume. The fruits and vegetables include every known variety that can be grown in the tropics.

POPULATION AND VITAL STATISTICS.

The population of St. Lucia according to the census of 1891 was 42,220, an excess of 3,669 over the population of 1881.

„ „ 1843 . .	20,694	„ „ 1891 . .	42,220

The population on December 31, 1899, was estimated at 48,650. In 1899 the birth rate was 35 per 1,000 (exclusive of still births), the death rate 21 per 1,000 (exclusive of still births), and the number of marriages 376. The estimated increase in population from 1891 to 1899 of 6,430, is due to the steady immigration of labourers from the other W. I. Islands.

CURRENCY.

British coins are the medium of circulation, but American gold is also current, and is taken at the rate of 4s. 1d. to the dollar.

There is a branch of the Colonial Bank in Castries; the rate of exchange with London being 2 per cent., and with New York about $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.

TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

Castries.—The capital of the island is situated at the head of the Bay of the same name on the north-west coast of the island, and is built principally on reclaimed land. It is perfectly level, and regularly laid out in straight and wide streets running at right angles to each other. It contains over 1,200 buildings, with about 10,000 inhabitants. The Bay or Harbour of Castries, which has been chosen as a British Naval Coaling and Store Station, is one of the most commodious and safe harbours in these parts. Its entrance is only about one-third of a mile across, and, surrounded by hills, it runs inland for about one and a half miles, with an average diameter of three-quarters of a mile.

On the "Vigie" headland on the north of the entrance is a lighthouse and signal station. Here also are several batteries of light and heavy guns, with barracks occupied by Royal Artillerymen and a detachment of the West India Regiment. Large and fine structures are also now being built on this hillock for the accommodation of other officers and men. Facing the harbour the Military Hospital is nearing completion.

On the "Cocoanuts" headland to the south of the harbour are several more batteries, and near the water's edge is a saluting battery, lately opened. On this headland are all the Ordnance and Naval Stores, and just above them are huts occupied by the St. Lucia Company Royal Artillery.

To the south of the town is the Morne Fortuné, a hill 800 feet high, on which have been erected many fine barracks; here almost all the European troops on the station are quartered. On a terrace in the foreground of the western end of Morne Fortuné is situated Government House, commanding an extensive and most picturesque view. "It is a 'large handsome structure, planned to suit English ideas, 'with the ground floor walls built of local rubble masonry, 'while the first floor is of stout timber-work, overlaid with the 'Jhilmil' patent metal lathing, and floated with cement. 'The roof covering is of shingles, coloured to imitate tiles. 'The cost was £8,800." It was finished in November, 1895, from the designs of Mr. C. Messervy, C.E., the then Colonial Engineer.

At great expense the Government has had the harbour thoroughly dredged and new wharves erected, so that all but the very largest vessels can now come alongside or anchor close to the wharves and coal. The depth of water alongside the wharf at low tide is 27 feet and at high tide 30 feet. In another part of this book will be found wharf dues, harbour dues, &c., &c.

As regards the capacity of the harbour, it may be mentioned that in April, 1899, the whole of the United States Squadron, under Admiral Sampson, comprising three battleships, two first-class cruisers, and three second-class cruisers, as well as the Dutch warship "Zeeland," were safely berthed inside, and took in both coal and water, "the presence of "these nine ships-of-war in no way interfering with the current "business of the port, which was unusually brisk during "their stay, as may be seen by a reference to the Shipping "Intelligence," ten steamers having called in three days, seven of which coaled, the S.S. "Ereza" alone taking 800 tons.

As to its safety, attention should be drawn to the fact that during the hurricane of September, 1898, which devastated St. Vincent and Barbados, and did considerable damage in St. Lucia, the business of coaling two steamers was carried on without a hitch. As far back as 1778 Admiral Rodney, in a report to the Earl of Sandwich, strongly advocated the retention of St. Lucia by the British; for "there," he said, "the largest ships-of-war can be careened, be secure during the hurricane months, and always ready to afford a speedy succour to His Majesty's other islands."

The coaling of steamers has been made as expeditious as possible. Not long back H.M.S. "Pallas" was given 700 tons in five hours, being at the rate of 140 tons per hour. Water is supplied to steamers in any quantity at 1s. 6d. per 100 gallons up to 5,000 gallons, 1s. 3d. per 100 up to 10,000, and 1s. per 100 over 10,000 gallons. Provisions, ships' supplies, &c., &c., can be purchased in bond at a small advance upon English and American prices. Fruit and ground provisions are plentiful and cheap; fresh fish, poultry, and meats easily obtained, providers boarding each steamship to take orders.

Among the most noticeable buildings in Castries are the Market, the St. Mary's College, the Victoria Hospital, the Castries Club, a new building lately erected by Dr. Dennehy, and the Roman Catholic Church. These edifices are characterized by architectural neatness rather than by any pretensions to architectural beauty, with the exception of the Baron Asylum and the Roman Catholic Church. This last mentioned, built of stone and iron, and calculated to hold 3,000 people, is in a pseudo-Romanesque style, with crude mouldings and much poverty of detail. It is reported to have been designed by Father Scoles, a priest from Demerara, who served his indentures as an architect in England under his father, a pupil of Pugin. This clergyman died in July, 1896, and the work was carried out by Mr. J. J. Meagher, A.M.I.C.E., late Director of the Public Works Department, Trinidad, and formerly of the Royal Engineers Civil Staff.

There is a daily steamer service between Castries, Soufrière, Choiseul, Laborie, and Vieux Fort, carried out by the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., and a daily canoe mail service with Roseau, Canaries, and Anse-la-Raye.

Soufrière—(Population 1891—2,268) comes next in importance to Castries, from which it is about 15 miles distant in a south-westerly direction. It lies at the head of a deep bay, on one side of the entrance to which rises the Petit Piton. "This town was twenty years ago a busy and thriving place, the centre of the sugar industry, being surrounded by excellent cane lands and bountifully supplied with water power, But "the long depression in the price of the staple has cast a "gloom over Soufrière" with the result that, to quote from Mr. Wm. Agnew Paton's "Down the Islands," "There is an "unreal, stagey aspect to all its purlieus and surrounding "scenery. It seems to me like the scene for the enactment "of a romantic drama." Twenty minutes' ride from the town takes one to the volcano already described. Nearer the town in an eastern direction are the ruins of extensive baths built by the Baron de Laborie, Governor in St. Lucia, in 1784, for the utilisation of the waters of the volcano in cases of rheumatism, ulcers, &c., &c.

During the early part of 1900, the owner of the lands on which the volcano is, discovered a mineral spring, whose waters on being analysed were found to contain properties identical with the famed waters of Aix-les-Bains. He has had baths erected on the spot, made a carriageable road, and built a comfortable cottage, which can be hired at a moderate charge. Preparations are being made for the further development of the lands, and a plant of machinery is shortly to be put up for the working of the sulphur deposits, and also a vein of iron ore lately discovered.

There is a daily steamer service between Castries and Soufrière.

Choiseul—(Population 1891—293). Next along the coast is the Village of Choiseul, called after the Minister of that name in the reign of Louis le Bien Aimé. Its climate is very healthy, and the soil exceptionally fertile. The inhabitants of this quarter have taken up the "minor industries" more earnestly than have those of other parts, and besides raising a good deal of cocoa, they supply the bulk of the vegetables which stock the Castries market. It is built on an open roadstead and has daily steamer communication with Castries.

Laborie—(Population 1891—1,002). This village is the next arrived at after leaving Choiseul, and was named after one of the best Governors St. Lucia ever had, the General Baron de Laborie. It is built on an open roadstead, surrounded by reefs, and has daily steamer communication with Castries.

Vieux-Fort—(Population 1891—1,448). This is the terminus of the daily steamer service. It takes its name from an old fort built near by, and has a safe bay. The country round about is very level, and cane cultivation is largely carried on. Here is located one of the sugar factories of the Island.

Micoud—(Population 1891—479). Is a village on the east coast, facing the bold Atlantic Ocean. It was named after the Baron de Micoud, one of the French Governors of the Island, who settled here.

- Dennerly*—(Population 1891—1,121). Is another village on the east side of the Island. It was named after the Chevalier D'Ennery, a French Governor of the Island. It is a very thriving little place, being the centre of considerable cocoa and cane cultivation. Here is situated one of the sugar factories of the Island.
- Gros-Islet*—Is a village on the north coast, and facing Pigeon Island. Its population in 1891 was 658, the majority of whom are fishermen.
- Anse-la-Raye*—Is a fishing village of some 300 people, on the west coast of the Island, nearly midway between Castries and Soufrière. There is a Roman Catholic church and priest here, and also a free school.
- Roseau*—Is another small village on the west coast, in which is situated a sugar factory.

THE ROYAL FAMILY.

THE SOVEREIGN.

Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and Empress of India (in India, Kaisar-i-Hind); born at Kensington Palace, London, 24th May, 1819; succeeded to the Throne 20th June, 1837, on the death of her uncle, King William IV.; crowned at Westminster Abbey, 28th June, 1838; and married 10th February, 1840, to H.R.H. Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who was born 26th August, 1819, and died 14th December, 1861.

THE QUEEN'S CHILDREN.

1. Her Imperial Majesty Victoria, Empress Frederick of Germany, Princess Royal, born 21st November, 1840.

2. Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, born 9th November, 1841, married 10th March, 1863, to Princess Alexandra of Denmark. His only surviving son is George Frederick, Duke of York, Rear-Admiral R.N., born 3rd June, 1865, married 6th July, 1893, to Princess Victoria Mary ("May") of Teck, and has issue:—Edward Albert, born 23rd June, 1894; Albert Frederick, born 14th December, 1895; Victoria Alexandra, born 25th April, 1897; and Henry William Frederick Albert, born 31st March, 1900.

3. Alice Maud Mary, Grand Duchess of Hesse, born 25th April, 1843; died 14th December, 1878.

4. Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Edinburgh and Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, born 6th August, 1844, died 30th July, 1900.

5. Helena Augusta Victoria, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, born 25th May, 1846.

6. Louise Caroline Alberta, Marchioness of Lorne, born 18th March, 1848.

7. Arthur, Duke of Connaught, born 1st May, 1850.

8. Leopold, Duke of Albany, born 7th April, 1853; died 28th March, 1884.

9. Beatrice Mary Victoria Feodore, Princess Henry of Battenberg, born 14th April, 1857.

COUSINS OF THE QUEEN.

Field-Marshal George William Frederick Charles, 2nd Duke of Cambridge, born 26th March, 1819.

Augusta Caroline (sister of Duke of Cambridge), Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, born 19th July, 1822.

Mary Adelaide (sister of the Duke of Cambridge), Duchess of Teck, born 27th November, 1833; died 27th October, 1897.

Ernest Augustus George, 3rd Duke of Cumberland, born 21st September, 1845.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

St. Lucia forms part of the diocese of the Windward Islands, which is at present administered by the Bishop of Barbados.

The Island is divided into two Divisions or Ecclesiastical Parishes, called the Northern and Southern Districts; the Northern comprising the I. and II. Magisterial Districts, and the Southern the III. Magisterial District.

Clergy—Northern District, Rev. J. R. Bascom.

„ Southern District, Rev. R. J. Clarke.

Catechist—Southern District, Mr. A. Adams.

The affairs of the Church are managed by a General Church Council having elected representatives from the two Divisions, and by individual Parochial Councils. The Church Council, the Lay Members of which are elected in December of each year, consists of:—

His Lordship the Right Rev. W. P. Swaby, D.D., Bishop of Barbados and the Wind- ward Islands (when in the Island)	His Hon. C. A. King-Harman, C.M.G.

SAVINGS BANKS.

There is a Principal Savings Bank, which is kept at the Treasury, Castries, and there are District Savings Banks kept at the Sub-Collectors' Offices at Soufrière and Vieux-Port.

These Banks are open every day, except Sundays and public holidays. Deposits can be made from one shilling to two hundred pounds. Interest at three per centum per annum is allowed on all deposits from one to one hundred pounds: such interest accrues from the first day of the month following that on which the deposit is made, and ceases from the last day of the month next preceding that in which the deposit is withdrawn. Interest is placed at the close of each year to the account of the capital sum due to each depositor. Depositors must in February in each year forward their pass books to the Treasurer for examination and comparison with the books of the office, and for the entry of any interest due to 31st December previous.

On 31st December, 1899, the amount due to depositors was £13,884, which amount was invested as follows:—

THE VICTORIA HOSPITAL.

This Hospital was completed in 1887, at a cost of about £8,000, and was opened on the occasion of Her Majesty's Golden Jubilee. It is beautifully situated, being built on a hillock on the southern side of the harbour, which it faces, and is about 50 feet above sea-level. It is about half a mile distant from the town of Castries, and a splendid carriage road leads to it.

Admission of patients is restricted to cases requiring surgical assistance, acute diseases requiring constant attention and nursing, and chronic diseases requiring special hospital treatment. Persons, however, may be admitted into the Hospital as paying patients, when there is accommodation for them, on the written request of any householder resident in Castries or of any master of a vessel lying in the harbour. The charge for such patients is at the rate of 2s. per diem for ordinary cases and 4s. per diem when extra accommodation and nursing with special diet are required.

The Hospital is under the superintendence of the Colonial Surgeon, and is visited twice a day; the Col. Surgeon and Col. Asst. Surgeon O. Galgey visiting on alternate days. It has a capacity of 150 beds.

The number of cases treated in 1899 was 1,680, and the daily average of attendances for the year was 81.

THE CASTRIES DISPENSARY.

This is attached to the Baron Asylum, and at certain hours daily medical advice, attendance, and medicine are given gratuitously to the poor. It is under the superintendence of Col. Asst. Surgeon O. Galgey, but is visited on alternate days by himself and the Col. Surgeon, who is in attendance from 8 to 11 a.m. A Dispenser is also attached to this Institution. The number of persons who applied for medicines, &c., during 1899 was 6,668.

SAILORS' WARD.

Section 42 of Ordinance No. 289 of 1871 provides for the upkeep of a particular apartment at the Victoria Hospital, to be called the "Sailors' Ward," for the reception and treatment of sick seamen trading to this port. This institution is maintained by a duty of one halfpenny per ton on all vessels coming to an entry at the Port of Castries.

DISTRICT HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES.

There is a Hospital in each of the towns of Soufrière and Vieuxfort, and also in the Village of Dennery, conducted on similar lines to the Victoria Hospital in Castries, and under the immediate control of the Col. Assistant Surgeon resident in each of the above-named Districts.

Accommodation at—		Daily Average for 1899.
Soufrière Hospital	20	17
Vieuxfort do.	31	12
Dennery do.	34	14

There are also Government Dispensaries at Soufrière, Anse-la-Rayé, Choiseul, Laborie, Micoud, Dennery, and Gros-Islet, where medicines are dispensed gratuitously.

The number of persons who applied for medicine, &c., at the respective dispensaries during 1899 is as follows:—

Gros-Islet	893	Choiseul	605
Dennery	1,827	Vieuxfort	2,349
Anse-la-Raye	595	Laborie	640

TEMPORARY LUNATIC ASYLUM—CASTRIES.

This Asylum is situated near the Royal Gaol, in a building formerly used as an Ordnance Store. Here lunatics are restrained pending their transference to the General Lunatic Asylum at Grenada; but there is no mention in the Annual Medical Report of the treatment of any lunatics in this Institution during 1899. It is under the superintendence of the Col. Surgeon.

YAWS HOSPITAL.

This Institution consists of several sheds built on Rat Island, situated in Choc Bay, on the north-western side of the Island, where are segregated and treated persons suffering from the skin disease (Frambesia) commonly known as Yaws.

Medical Officers, Magistrates, Ministers of Religion, Police or other Constables are empowered by law to require persons suffering from Yaws to go to or be removed to this Hospital. It is under the superintendence of Col. Assistant Surgeon St. Geo. Gray, who visits it three times a week.

The number of cases treated in 1899 was 78, of which 29 were discharged cured, and 13 relieved, two deaths occurring.

POOR ASYLUM

Is situated near the Royal Gaol and opposite to the Temporary Lunatic Asylum, and is virtually a Hospital for incurables. It is under the superintendence of the Colonial Surgeon. The number of admissions in 1899 was 175.

THE BARON ASYLUM.

This Asylum adjoins the Poor Asylum. It is a building of concrete in a pseudo-Gothic style of architecture, and was erected with funds left by the late Mr. Joseph Seligny Baron, a coloured native of St. Lucia, for the founding or support of an Institution for the relief and maintenance of the poor, aged, and infirm inhabitants of Castries. It has never been fitted up as an Asylum, but in it are located the Castries Dispensary, the office of the Inspector of Schools, and the quarters of the Keeper and Head Nurse of the Poor Asylum.

PUBLIC LIBRARY—CASTRIES,

Occupies the two floors of the building situated at the corner of Bourbon and Micoud Streets and facing Columbus Square. On the lower floor is a good collection of Historical, Scientific, and other popular literature, numbering about 3,000 volumes. The upper floor is reserved as a Reading Room, where are to be found all the best English and a few American, French, and West Indian Newspapers and Periodicals.

The Library receives a grant-in-aid from the Government of £150 per annum, and is managed by six Trustees, two of whom are nominated by the Governor and four elected by the subscribers.

At the first meeting of the year the Trustees elect a Chairman from among themselves. The Librarian is appointed by the Trustees, and receives a salary of £50 per annum.

The Library also receives a grant of £25 from the Castries Town Board, the following conditions attaching thereto:—

That two papers, of the type of the "Penny Illustrated Paper" and "Public Opinion," be subscribed for, for the free Reading Room.

That the papers and magazines, when removed from upstairs, be placed on the table of the free Reading Room.

That the Board be represented by one of their members on the Library Board of Trustees.

Subscription to the Library and Reading Room is 2s. monthly or 10s. half-yearly, payable in advance; to the Library or Reading Room separately 1s. monthly, or 5s. half-yearly. Strangers can make use of the Library and Reading Room for one month, but cannot take away books or papers. There are at present about 70 subscribers.

The Library is open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on all days of the week and holidays, and until 9 p.m. on the three days following the arrival of the English mail.

THE CASTRIES CLUB

Was established in 1866, and, after some vicissitudes, was definitely organised on its present basis in 1885.

Admission is by ballot; one black ball in five excludes. The entrance fee is £2, and the annual subscription £4. Officers of the Garrison are admitted on introduction without ballot. They pay no entrance fee, and their annual subscription is £2; but they have no voice in the management of the Club, which is in the hands of a Committee elected annually, and consisting of the President, the Secretary, the Treasurer, and two other members not holding office. The present office-bearers are

His Honour Chief Justice Child, President; B. A. J. Ferguson, Treasurer; and A. S. Duff, Esq., Secretary. Officers of Ships of War are Honorary Members of the Club.

There are about fifty members. The club house is a cool and commodious building, conveniently situated for the wharves and the business centre of Castries.

JUNIOR CLUB.

This Club was started in June, 1899, and already has no fewer than ten honorary and forty active members. It fills a long-felt want, that of a place where the respectable young men of the community, after working hours, can spend a quiet hour enjoyably.

The Club is situated on the upper floor of the St. Mary's College, and has large and airy rooms. Numbers of papers are subscribed to, and it is intended to add a library as soon as funds will permit. The subscription is 20s. per annum, payable quarterly, with an entrance fee of 10s.

The Managing Committee consists of:—

Rev. Father Devaux.		A. Oddy, Esq.
R. P. Cropper, Esq.		H. H. Borman (Treasurer).
		F. E. Bundy (Secretary).

ST. LUCIA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The St. Lucia Agricultural Society was founded in 1884 by Sir Roger Tuckfield Goldsworthy, K.C.M.G., at that time Administrator of the Government of the Colony.

The objects of the Society, as stated in the rules, are the general advancement of all branches of Agriculture in St. Lucia, the improvement of the breed of live stock, and the encouragement of every branch of native industry and manufacture. Admission is open to all applicants upon payment of an annual subscription of 6s.

The Society received an annual grant of £100 from the Public Funds of the Colony, until continued depression of the revenue caused the grant to be withdrawn, but it was renewed in 1900.

By holding shows, by importing blood stock, by the experimental cultivation of economic plants, and by trial shipments of fruit to other West India Colonies and to the United States, the Society has done good service to the Colony. But its chief title to public appreciation is the systematic introduction of the mongoose (Herpestes griseus), by which the deadly Fer-de-Lance (Trigonocephalus lanceolatus) with which this Island was infested has been practically extirpated. Nearly thirty years ago a reward of 6*d.* per head of this poisonous reptile brought in was offered by the Government. The offer brought 52,000 heads in a single year. The ascertained death rate from snake-bite at that time was close upon 30 per annum in a population of 30,000. In 1898 only one death in a population of 48,000 was reported from this cause. The sense of security brought about by the knowledge that in localities where snakes once abounded not one is now met with, has not only encouraged the opening up of land by the native population, but has removed the greatest obstacle which had in times past existed to emigration from the neighbouring Colonies.

The Society's activity has hitherto been somewhat spasmodic, and it has never received the encouragement and support from the Agriculturists of the Colony which its objects deserve. But it has recently been galvanised into new life by the interest shown in its working by His Honour C. A. King-Harman, C.M.G., the present Administrator, under whose Presidency very successful Agricultural Shows were organised in Castries and Dennery in 1899, with the generous collaboration of the Imperial Department of Agriculture for the West Indies, recently organised, with Dr. Morris, C.M.G., as Commissioner.

The Hon. Duncan Ferguson is the Hon. Treasurer of the Society, and Mr. R. G. McHugh the Hon. Secretary.

ST. LUCIA RACING ASSOCIATION.

There is a young but vigorous Racing Association in the Island, whose avowed object is the improvement of the breed of horses in the Colony, and the encouragement of Horse Racing and Sport in general. The race-course is held on lease for seven years, and is situated on the Choc Estate, about 3 miles from Castries, and is approached by a good road, one of the very few roads in the vicinity of Castries suitable for vehicular traffic. The shape of the course is almost circular, and the distance round $6\frac{1}{2}$ furlongs. An excellent Grand Stand has been erected at considerable cost, in the basement of which is the refreshment bar and necessary offices. Adjoining the Stand Enclosure is the Paddock, with stabling accommodation for 25 horses. The funds for the erection of the Stand and Paddock were provided in part by the Association and in part by the Members. To secure the sum advanced by the Members, amounting to \$500.00, debentures of the value of \$10.00 each were issued, bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum. Six of these debentures are redeemed annually, the numbers to be paid off being balloted for. Several good half-bred horses have been imported from the Leeward Islands and Jamaica, and a local gentleman interested in horse-breeding has purchased from the Leeward Islands Government one of the English thoroughbred stallions imported there some years ago. Owing to the introduction of these animals it is confidently expected that the breed of horses in the Colony will be greatly improved.

The affairs of the Racing Association are managed by a Committee, elected annually. The Committee for 1900 consists of His Honour C. A. King-Harman, C.M.G., President.

His Honour A. Child,

Lieut.-Colonel Egerton

(Officer Commanding Troops).

} Vice-Presidents.

Honourable Granville Ponsonby.

Major Molesworth, R.A.

Lieut. King, R.E.

F. St. A. Reece, Esq.

E. Evelyn, Esq.

S. Renshaw, Esq.

H. W. Bull, Esq., Hon. Secretary.

R. P. Cropper, jun., Esq., Hon. Treasurer.

The first meeting under the auspices of the Association was held on the 28th January, 1897, and was followed by the Jubilee Meeting held on the 22nd and 23rd June, 1897. Since then the meetings have been annual, that for 1898 being held on the 26th and 27th January of that year. The last meeting was held on the 24th and 25th January, 1900, and was a most successful gathering. The Non-Commissioned Officers of the Garrison organised and carried through a one-day meeting on the 1st August, 1898.

ST. LUCIA C.C.

To the efforts of Mr. George Snyder, of Dominica, is mainly due the founding of the St. Lucia C.C. In 1891 Mr. Snyder, then on a visit to the Island, conceived the idea of starting a Cricket Club; the idea soon took definite form, and in August a circular was addressed to the gentlemen of the Island interested in cricket inviting them to attend a meeting to be held at the office of the Castries Town Board, for the purpose of forming a Club. The meeting, which took place soon after, was attended with gratifying results. A Committee of Management was appointed, and a subscription list opened to obtain the necessary funds for providing a ground. A suitable ground, about ten minutes' walk from the town, was selected, and about £140 spent in levelling and draining. From this time the Club may be said to have been fairly launched. The affairs of the Club are managed by a Committee elected annually, consisting of a President, Captain, Secretary, Treasurer, and five other members elected by ballot at a General Meeting. The first Committee was composed of the following gentlemen:—

His Honour A. Child, C.J., President.

Messrs. McHugh, Evelyn, Sitwell, F. Barnard, Pasca.

That for 1900 is as under—

His Honour A. CHILD, President.

Messrs. G. PETER, Captain.

L. O'REILLY, Treasurer.

T. T. DYER, Secretary.

J. E. M. SALMON.

H. J. MEAGHER.

D. J. GARRAWAY.

C. C. P. GARRAWAY, B.A.

In a Colony like St. Lucia, with only one organised Club, great difficulty is experienced in arranging matches, and the want of that competition which would exist were there other Clubs in the Colony greatly retards the progress of the game and places us at a disadvantage with our more fortunate neighbours.

The Club has six honorary and 45 active members. The entrance fee is 10s. 6d., and the subscription is for honorary membership 12s. and for ordinary membership 24s. per annum, payable in advance.

FREEMASONRY.

During 1900 a Lodge was started under Charter of the Grand Lodge of England.

ABERCROMBIE LODGE, No. 2788 E.R.

D. G. Garraway, W.M. (absent from the Colony); Lieut. A. C. Robinson, S.W.; J. W. Elliott, J.W.; George Williams, Treasurer; T. T. Dyer, Secretary (acting); Sergt.-Major Blackwell, S.D.; C. Riggs, J.D.; Master Gunner J. Roulston, I.G.; James Fraser, Tyler.

Night of meeting, Second Friday of each month.

THE INDEPENDENT UNITED ORDER OF MECHANICS.

There is a thriving Lodge of this society, called the St. Lucia Star Lodge. The objects of the society are to provide for members permanently disabled from their usual employment in lieu of weekly sick benefit, to assist members when travelling in search of employment, and to defray funeral expenses of members, their wives and children.

Regular meeting nights, every Friday; Lecture and Degree nights, every alternate Tuesday. Number of members, 70.

THE ANCIENT ORDER OF FREE GARDENERS.

There is a Lodge of this Order, "No. 373, Sun Flower Lodge," with about 40 members, the objects of which are to provide for the relief of its members during sickness and to defray funeral expenses. Secretary, William E. Green.

THE ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

There is a Court of this Order, "Excelsior, No. 8149," established at Castries. The objects of the Order are similar to those of the Gardeners. Membership about 35.

OTHER FRIENDLY SOCIETIES.

Among these may be mentioned the St. Lucia Hand of Fellowship, 111 members; the St. Lucia United, 99 members; the St. Lucia Catholic, 156 members; and the St. Lucia Union, 52 members, all of which have similar objects to the preceding Orders, but further particulars of which the compiler has been unable to obtain.

This College was started in 1889, and receives an annual grant from Government of £200. The average attendance for 1899 was 63, and the number on roll 70.

The Government provides 10 Scholarships yearly from the Primary Schools. These are tenable for one year, and renewable from year to year for five years on condition of good conduct certified by the Head Master, and satisfactory progress as certified by examination by the Inspector of Schools.

The School Year consist of 3 terms of a total of 42 weeks, the holidays being 6 weeks at Christmas, 2 weeks at Midsummer, and 2 weeks at Easter.

The course of instruction is laid on the lines of the Cambridge Local Examinations, and includes Latin, French, Mathematics, English and Composition, Religious Knowledge and Greek (extra). The Cambridge Local Examinations are held locally in December in each year, and since the establishment of a local examination centre (in 1896) all the College students that have sat have passed; in all 4 Senior, 11 Junior, and 13 Preliminary, 7 taking honours in the Senior and Junior.

The fees average from £3 to £6 6s. per annum, payable quarterly in advance. In the case of two brothers the younger pays one third less, and in the case of three brothers the second pays half less than the first.

FOR GIRLS.

ST. JOSEPH'S CONVENT.

This School is under the management and control of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Cluny; and consists of two departments—the Higher School, and the Day School. It receives a grant from Government of £50 per annum.

In the Higher School the curriculum embraces the Cambridge Local Course of studies, and the students are prepared for these examinations, held annually in December.

The teaching staff consists of three English Mistresses, one Music Mistress, and one Mistress for French and Fancy Work.

The School fees, payable monthly, are as under:—

For Boarders	£2 8
„ Half Boarders	£1 4
„ Younger Half Boarders	£0 12

The number of Scholars on the roll for 1899 was 100, and the average daily attendance 90.

In the Day School the curriculum embraces Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, History and Geography, Plain and Fancy Work.

The School fee is 4s. monthly. The number of scholars on the roll, 25; average daily attendance, 23.

The School Year of both these Schools consists of 3 terms of a total of 43 weeks, the vacations being one week at Easter, two weeks at Midsummer, and six weeks at Christmas.

POSTAL INFORMATION.

The General Post Office in Castries is open daily for the transaction of business from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., except on Wednesdays, when, being a half holiday, it is only open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. For the public convenience the office is also opened for the receipt and despatch of mails by the many steamers calling here after the above hours, and on Sundays and holidays when necessary.

Branch Post Offices under the control and direction of the Colonial Postmaster are established at Soufrière, Choiseul, Laborie, Vieuxfort, Micoud, Dennery, and Gros-Islet. The times for opening and closing are the same as those regulating the General Post Office.

Registered letters or packets must be handed to an official of the Post Office and a receipt obtained therefor. The packet must on no account be dropped into a letter box.

Newspapers, printed papers and books include newspapers, books (stitched or bound), periodical works, pamphlets, sheets of music, visiting cards, address cards, proofs of printing, plans, maps, catalogues, prospectuses, announcements, circulars, notices, engravings, photos and designs.

Commercial papers comprise all papers or documents written or drawn wholly or partly by hand (except letters or communications in the nature of letters, or other papers or documents having the character of an actual and personal correspondence), such as documents of legal procedure, deeds, copies or extracts of deeds, Way Bills, Bills of Lading, Invoices or other documents of a mercantile character, documents of Insurance and other public Companies, all kinds of manuscript music, the manuscript of books and other literary works and other papers of a similar description.

Printed papers, commercial papers, patterns and samples must be sent entirely open at both ends, so as to admit of the contents being easily withdrawn for examination ; the covers, however, may be tied at the ends with string. Stamps, whether obliterated or not, and all printed matter constituting the sign of a monetary value are excluded from transmission by book post to countries in the Postal Union. Samples of saleable value must not be sent by Sample post. Such articles, however, as scissors, knives, razors, forks, steel pens, nails, keys, watch machinery, metal tubing and pieces of metal or ore, provided that they be packed and guarded in so secure a manner as to afford complete protection to the contents of the mail bag and to the officers of the Post Office, while at the same time they may be easily examined, may be sent abroad as samples. Liquids, glass, explosives, indigo, &c., are prohibited.

REGULATIONS.

1. The fee (which is for insurance and registration) must be prepaid by means of postage stamps, which the sender must affix to the certificate of posting, and not to the cover or label of the parcel. A certificate of posting must always be obtained by the sender of an insured parcel.

2. No parcel can be insured for more than the sum set in the foregoing list against the name of the country or colony to which it is addressed, or for a sum above the real value of the contents. A parcel of which the contents have no saleable value may, however, be insured for a nominal sum in order to obtain the safeguards of the registration system. Over-insurance is a bar to compensation.

3. The sum for which a parcel is to be insured must be entered on the cover thus:—Insured “£ s. d.” It must also be inscribed in the place provided on the despatch-note, if one is used. The number of pounds should be entered in words. No alteration or erasure of the entry is permitted.

4. Every insured parcel must be packed carefully and substantially, with due regard to the nature of the contents and the length of the journey, and must be sealed with wax or lead in such a way that it cannot be opened without either breaking the seal or leaving obvious traces of violation. For instance, seals must be placed over each join or loose flap of the covering of a parcel; and if string be used in packing, a seal must be placed on the ends of the string where they are tied.

5. All the seals on a parcel must be of the same kind of wax or lead, and must bear distinct impressions of some device; and this device must be the same on each seal, and must not consist merely of straight, curved, or crossed lines. Coins must not be used for sealing, and it is strongly recommended that, when possible, an impression of the seal used on the parcel should be made on the counterfoil of the despatch note,

6. Parcels containing coin, watches, jewellery, or any article of gold or silver, must be enclosed in strong boxes or cases, which must be sewn up or otherwise fastened in wrappers of linen, canvas, strong paper, or other substantial material. In such cases the seals must be placed along the edges of each join or loose flap at distances not more than three inches apart. The address of such parcels must be written on their actual covering.

7. If a parcel tendered for insurance does not, in the opinion of the officer to whom it is tendered, fulfil the foregoing conditions as to packing and sealing, it is his duty to refuse to insure it; but the onus of properly packing and fastening the parcel lies upon the sender; and the Post Office assumes no liability for loss or damage arising from defects of packing or fastening which may not be observed at the time of posting.

8. Unless parcels containing coin, watches, jewellery, or any article of gold or silver are insured for at least part of their value, they cannot be sent by Parcel Post. Any such parcel posted uninsured will generally be returned to the sender. A compulsory registration fee of 4*d.* will be collected on the delivery of every uninsured parcel received from the places above-mentioned and found to contain coin, watches, jewellery, or any article of gold or silver.

9. When an insured parcel is re-directed from one country to another, a fresh insurance fee becomes payable for such transmission. If this fee is not prepaid it is collected from the addressee on delivery. Insured parcels can only be re-directed to countries which have adopted the insurance system.

10. Compensation for a parcel lost or damaged in the post will not exceed the amount of actual loss or damage; and no compensation at all will be paid for a parcel containing any prohibited article, or for a parcel which has been delivered without external trace of injury, and has been accepted without remark by the addressee; nor does it follow as a matter of course that compensation will be given when loss or damage arises from tempest, shipwreck, earthquake, war, or other causes beyond control. No claim for compensation will be admitted if made more than a year after the parcel was posted. The sender has the first claim to any compensation which may be payable; but he may waive his claim in favour of the addressee.

11. No legal liability to give compensation in respect of any parcel for which an insurance fee has been paid attaches to the Postmaster, either personally or in his official capacity. The final decision upon all questions of compensation rests with the Postal Administration of the country in which the loss or damage has taken place.

Any insurance effected contrary to the foregoing regulations is invalid,

POST OFFICE EXPRESS PARCEL DELIVERY SERVICE.

Parcels sent by Parcels Post between St. Lucia and the United Kingdom can, on the request of the senders, be delivered by special messenger immediately after arrival at the Office of Delivery.

In addition to the postage an express delivery fee of 5*d.* is payable by the sender.

An extra charge is also collected from the addressee.

The following is the scale of charges to be collected in Castries:—

CHARGES FOR THE OCCUPATION OF SITES ON CASTRIES WHARVES, WITH RULES RELATING THERETO.

For a block capable of holding 2,000 tons of coal when stacked to an average height of fifteen feet, and when rented annually, £200 per annum.

For a block capable of holding any less quantity than 2,000 tons of coal when stacked to an average height of fifteen feet, and when rented annually, at the rate of 2s. per ton capacity of the block.

For a block capable of holding any less quantity than 2,000 tons of coal when stacked to an average height of fifteen feet, and when rented for any shorter period than one year, at the rate of 2s. per ton capacity of the block.

For storage of other articles per ton measurement, per day, $\frac{1}{4}d$.

Where a site is allotted for the storage of coal for a specified time, the rent will be payable whether the whole site is occupied or not.

Where a site is allotted for the storage of coal for a less period than twelve months, the rent shall be payable by the month, and not for any broken period of a month.

The site for the storage of coal shall in all cases be pegged out by the Colonial Surveyor.

All payments for the annual rental of coal sites shall be made punctually on the last day of each quarter.

All payments for the rental of coal sites for shorter periods than one year shall be made punctually on the last day of each month.

All payments for the rental of sites for the storage of articles other than coal shall be made punctually on the last day of each month, when the articles remained stored for more than one month, or immediately after the articles are removed, if such articles are stored for less than one month.

The Governor-in-Council reserves the right of remitting these charges in special cases, on account of goods the property of the Crown or of the Town Board of Castries.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE DISTRIBUTION AND LOAN OF PLANTS FROM THE BOTANICAL STATION.

In order to facilitate the distribution of plants from the Botanic Garden, the following information is supplied for the guidance of persons making application:—

1. Planters desiring large numbers of plants of such products as Cacao (cocoa), Coffee, Kola, Nutmeg, Oranges, &c., in bamboos, or from the ground, can only, as a rule, obtain supplies by giving six months' notice previous to the date on which they will be required, it being found too expensive to keep on hand large supplies.

2. In the temporary and unavoidable absence of the Curator from the Garden, the Foreman may sell plants and fruit, adhering strictly to the rules made for the guidance of the Curator with respect to such sales, and producing the money and accounting to the Curator for all such sales as soon as possible after his return to the Garden.

3. Except by special order of the Governor, no plants or fruits shall be sold or removed from the Garden before or after the hours during which it is open to the public, and any person concerned in the sale or removal of any such plants or fruit before or after those hours shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

4. The Department does not undertake the delivery of plants, and will not be responsible for them after they leave the Garden.

5. To persons endeavouring to promote the "Subsidiary Industries," advice in connection with the various cultivations is freely afforded by the Curator either by letter, or interview; and by visiting any locality whenever practicable.

6. Committees desirous of obtaining decorative plants on loan for Public Entertainments must make application in writing at least three clear days beforehand: they must provide their own transit, and all damages to pots and plants will be charged for.

WILD BIRD PROTECTION.

On account of the indiscriminate destruction of the birds of the Island, an Ordinance was passed in 1885 to protect certain birds. The protected birds are divided into two classes; those named in the one class are protected all the year round, and those in the other class are protected during certain months only.

The following are the birds specified in the 1st Schedule of Ordinance No. 72 of 1885 as being entirely protected :—

Aigrette (Egret)
 Aileronde
 Cardinal
 Carouge
 Casse-noisette
 Charpentier (Wood-Pecker)
 Cici-zèbe
 Colibre (Humming Bird)
 Coucou
 Coucou Manioc
 Fauvette
 Gobe-mouche
 Grimpereau (Tree Hopper)
 Grimpour

Gros-bec
 Huitrier
 Mangeur de Cacao
 Martin Pêcheur (King-Fisher)
 Merle Corbeau (Tick Bird)
 Père Noir
 Pie
 Pie-grieche
 Piole
 Pipiri
 Rossignol
 Rouge-gorge
 Siffleur de Montagne
 Sucrier

The following are the birds specified in the 2nd Schedule as being protected between the first day of May and the first day of September :—

Bécard	Perdrix Croissant
Bécasse (Woodcock)	Perroquet or Jacquot
Bécassine (Snipe)	Plongeon (Diver)
Caille (Quail)	Poule d'Eau (Water-Fowl)
Canard Sauvage (Wild Duck)	Poule Savane (Savana Hen)
Grive	Ramier (Pigeon)
Griotte	Sarcelle (Teal)
Movi	Tourterelle (Dove)
Ortolan	Trembleur
Perdrix (Partridge)

Every offence against this Ordinance is punishable by a fine not exceeding five pounds, or, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding one month.

Notwithstanding the above, under Clause 10 of this Ordinance the Governor may authorize any person "to kill, wound or take any bird specified in either of the Schedules," for scientific purposes.

THE BIRDS OF GRENADA.

Included as a guide to what may be found in the Island, as no list has ever been compiled of the birds of this Island.

STONE FOUND IN THE ISLAND SUITABLE FOR BUILDING MATERIAL.

NAMES.	CHARACTERISTICS. (a) Colour. (b) Texture. (c) Durability.	Weight per F.C. lbs.	Uses. (a) Ashlar. (b) Rubble. (c) Paving. (d) Road Metal.	REMARKS.
Greenstones and Basalts (chiefly dolerites and andesites).	(a) The best varieties are black to dark green, and black or brown (from presence of iron). Andesitic varieties are speckled white. (b) Close-grained and compact. Difficult to work. (c) Hard and very durable.	175	(a) No. (b) Yes ; very good. (c) No, except as square setts. (d) Excellent, commonly used for this purpose.	Very abundant in boulders and lava streams from Soufrière to Castries, and round Laborie and Vieux-Fort ; also on Morne Fortuné and in laminated beds on Telegraph Hill. This is the only stone which it would pay to use on War Department property, where the boulders are often found of many tons weight. It is very hard and needs blasting, and is especially valuable for rubble masonry and road metal. Old barracks and other structures in the Island are built of this material, as well as the lower portion of the new Government House. Absorbs 0.30 per cent. by weight of water after 24 hours immersion.

Trachyte Quartz	(a) Dark-grey when free from iron; reddish brown when iron is present. (b) Trachytic and rough. (c) Fair to good.	—	(a) No. (b) Yes. (c) Yes, largely used for cobble work in Soufrière, Choiseul, and Laborie. (d) Yes.	Extends from Soufrière to Vieux-Fort and Dennery. Occurs in boulders, numerous in river beds, and is occasionally seen as a bedded lava.
Trachyte Lava (commonly known as the Soufrière building stone).	(a) Whitish-grey to buff-grey. (b) Coarse - grained, feeling rough and prickly to the finger. (c) Good, and wears well under traffic.	135	(a) Yes; best in the Island. (b) Yes. (c) No, except as square setts. (d) Yes; but too valuable a stone for this purpose.	Soufrière neighbourhood only, and locally described as "Pierre de Taille," which signifies stone that can be cut. Some kindred stones are found at Choiseul, but of inferior quality. The Pitons largely consist of another variety of coarser grain. This stone is suitable for quoins, voussoirs, steps, and sills, but is difficult to work and to dress finely. Used in old barracks, R. C. Church at Soufrière, and other buildings. Absorbs 2·22 per cent. by weight of water after 24 hours immersion. This rock has a distant likeness to granite. It is composed of a hard matrix of microlithic felspar, through which minute crystals of quartz and sanadine are freely diffused, while

—	—	—	—	here and there black porphyritic crystals of hornblende and scales of black mica stand out in marked contrast from the grey-coloured base.
D o l o m i t i c Limestones.	(a) A dirty white to buff (b) Compact and dolomitic. (c) Not very. Weathered surface is liable to flake off on the shady side if quality be inferior.	170	(a) Yes. (b) Yes. (c) No. (d) No; too valuable a stone for this purpose.	Found only at Soufrière in and near the Pitons. A doubtful building stone, and a very inferior limestone. It is rather soft, fissile, and apt to fly under the chisel, and is more suitable for internal than external work. Absorbs 1·3 per cent. by weight of water after 24 hours immersion.
Volcanic Sandstone (a kind of Trass).	(a) Dirty buff to grey. (b) Felsitic to earthy. (c) Inferior, owing to softness of the rock.	—	(a) Yes, being easily cut as a freestone. (b) Yes. (c) No; too soft. (d) Inferior, except for light traffic.	Abundant as a bedded rock at Morne Doudon and Union Valley, forming part of a mountain ridge and appearing as an outcrop and cliff.

Quartzite.	(a) White to pink, yellow and grey. (b) Extremely close-grained, hard and compact, resembling marble. (c) Most durable.	164	(a) No; too hard. (b) Yes; but difficult to break into suitable blocks. (c) No. (d) Good.	Embedded in lumps from Courbaril to Ciceron, but the supply is limited. Requires blasting, and is too hard and brittle to work to be of much use for building purposes. Absorbs 2·7 per cent. by weight of water after 24 hours immersion.
Porphyries.	(a) All shades, from greyish blue to purple, reddish brown, and speckled white. (b) Hard and close-grained to friable, loose-grained and earthy. (c) Fair to bad.	—	(a) No. (b) Yes; but only the harder varieties. (c) No. (d) Good for moderately light traffic.	Found at La'Toc, Vigie, Gros-Islet, Marquis, &c. The better sorts might be used for building, but the majority are decomposed. Chiefly employed for road metalling.
Yellow Sandstone.	(a) Dirty yellow colour. (b) Coarse and uneven. (c) Good.	112	(a) No. (b) Yes. (c) No. (d) Yes.	Extends over an area of some square miles in the Micoud district. Owing to its coarseness it is unsuitable for fine work, but works well under the chisel, as it does not split. It is spoken of as "firestone," as it is used for the setting of ranges and ovens. Absorbs 2·10 per cent. by weight of water after 24 hours immersion.

Any of the above signals with—

D. at the yard-arm indicates that the vessel is passing the port.

G. at the yard-arm indicates that the vessel is close to and coming into port. .

When a Man-of-War is leaving the harbour, the Union Jack is hoisted and kept up until she is clear of the harbour.

The red flag for a steamer hoisted under any representative flag for a Steamer Line, denotes a second steamer. After the second steamer is distinguished, the red flag will be hauled down and the representative flag will be hoisted.

The pennant C. hoisted under the red flag, denotes that the steamer is coming from a Coast Port.

A red, yellow, and blue pennant indicates that a private code of signals is being used. All other signals are made with the International Code.

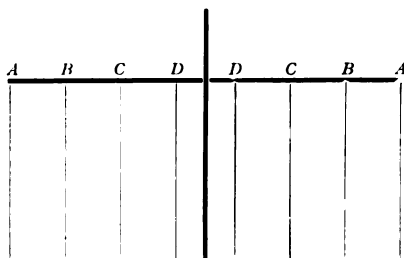

SEMAPHORE SIGNALS.

At the foot of the Mast—

Showing the direction of vessels indicated by mast-head Signals.

YARD-ARM SIGNALS.

(Four halyards on windward yard-arm, four on leeward yard-arm.)

B	" " " " " or leeward	. Two-masted fore and [aft schooner.
C	" " " " "	. Sloop.
D	" " " " "	. Coasting Steamer.

Two or more balls or cones on the same halyards indicate such number of vessels of similar rig in sight.

NIGHT SIGNALS.

Green light at yard-arm—Steamer to leeward.
Red " " Steamer to windward.

Red and green light at yard-arm—Steamer requires a pilot.

White „ „ „ Steamer anchored or close to harbour.

Red, white and green light at yard-arm—Steamer passing the port.

TIME BALL.

A Time Ball is dropped from the mast-head daily at noon, mean time, for Longitude 61° West. The time is given for local purposes, and vessels are recommended not to rate their chronometers thereby.

STORM SIGNALS.

The Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture have established sub-bureaus at several of the other Islands, which furnish St. Lucia with information in respect to approaching windstorms and hurricanes. In this respect the following signals are flown at Vigie Signal Station as occasion may require :—

Warnings of the approach of windstorms will be published by the display of flags by day and lanterns by night, in connection with the bulletins posted and the reports furnished to newspapers, mariners, and others interested.

The signals adopted by this Bureau for announcing the approach of windstorms and hurricanes are as follows :—

The HURRICANE SIGNAL (two storm-signal flags, red, with black centres, displayed one above the other) indicates the expected approach of a tropical hurricane or of an extremely severe and dangerous storm.

The STORM SIGNAL (a red flag, eight feet square, with black centre, three feet square) indicates that a storm of marked violence is expected.

The RED PENNANT (8 feet hoist and 15 feet fly) displayed with the flags, indicates easterly winds, that is, from the north-east to south, inclusive, and that the storm centre is approaching.

The WHITE PENNANT (8 feet hoist and 15 feet fly) displayed with the flags indicates westerly winds, that is, from north to south-west, inclusive, and that the storm centre has passed.

When the RED PENNANT is hoisted above the Storm Signal, winds are expected from the north-east quadrant; when below, from the south-east quadrant.

When the WHITE PENNANT is hoisted above the Storm Signal, winds are expected from the north-west quadrant; when below, from the south-west quadrant.

NIGHT STORM SIGNALS.—By night a red light will indicate easterly winds; a white above a red light will indicate westerly winds.

LATEST NOVELTY IN CORSETS.

THOMSON'S

“GRACIOSA,”

UNBREAKABLE WAIST.

Patented and Registered.

NATURAL HINGE:

Extract from Madame Schild's Fashion Journals for March.

A NEW CORSET.

This novelty is a very clever arrangement of the nature of a hinge at the waist, so that the wearer does not break the steels when stooping. This alteration in the corset in no way interferes with the support which the corset should give to the body; on the contrary, if anything, it gives greater strength without pressure upon the hip bones, and yet makes the body more supple. This new corset is called “The Graciosa,” is extremely comfortable to wear, even from the first, it fits the body at once, and is as easy as a glove, and is manufactured by Messrs. W. S. Thomson & Co. Can be had of all ladies' outfitters.

“PATENTED AND REGISTERED”

Made in White, Dove, Black, and Cream. Only one price.

Quality and Age Exceptional.

In the action for infringement of Trade Mark, in the High Court of Justice, Victoria, Mr. Justice Hodges, in granting Plaintiffs an injunction and a general verdict, said : “ Mitchell's (the Plaintiffs) Whisky was, I believe, on the evidence, the most highly prized of all Irish Whiskies imported into this market. . . . No witness was called to dispute that it is the most popular Whisky in Victoria.”—Melbourne Argus.
